Headline:
Dry, bright start. Isolated showers developing, perhaps heavy later.

Today:
Dry, bright and largely sunny start. Cloud will build through the day, with the odd shower moving through, although many parts staying dry. A few heavier showers may develop by the afternoon, with the low chance of thunder and hail. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Evening showers fading, with a chilly, clear night and light winds following. Some thin cloud spreading east early Tuesday morning, but mist and fog patches possible where skies remain clear. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tuesday:
Bright, sunny start for some, although thickening cloud and strengthening breeze spreading east through the morning. Staying dry, and feeling rather mild. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rather cloudy and windy, but likely dry throughout. Best of any brighter or sunny spells in the east. A chance of rain, mainly Thursday in the west. Mild.
